

Department of Economics
Degree	(1) Doctor of Philosophy in International Economics (D.P.)
Term of admission	(2) Fall (Enroll in September)
Department Requirements
Medium of instruction	(3) Chinese and English
Language proficiency	(4) English proficiency required at the CEFR level B1 or above). Chinese proficiency required at the TOCEL level A2 (or above).
Requirement for financial statement	(5) A bank statement issued within the last three months showing a balance of at least NTD 90,000 must be submitted (Minimum requirement is USD 3,000.)
Required application documents	Please refer to page for the required documents
Additional documents required by department	(6) 1. The highest degree diploma 2. The highest degree's full transcript of records 3. Financial statement 4. Recommendation letter x 2 5. Statement of Purpose 6. Declaration of Nationality Form 7. Passport (if available) 8. Taiwan Alien Resident Certificate (ARC) (if available)
Interview / Oral Exam	(7) none
Scholarship from college or department	(8) For graduate students, an average of five students are awarded fellowships of NT$ 5,000 each month for one year. The primary forms of financial aid for graduate students are administrative, research, or teaching assistantships. National Chung Cheng University Scholarship Award for International Students
Department information (9)
Introduction	The Graduate Institute of International Economics was one of the first five institutes when National Chung Cheng University was established in 1989. In 1992, the Graduate Institute of International Economics expanded to be part of the Department of Economics and initiated its undergraduate and doctoral programs.
Curriculum planning	The Ph.D. program requires 40 credits for graduation.
Website	https://econ.ccu.edu.tw/
Contact Information	Name: Ms. Yean Email : admsfy@ccu.edu.tw Telephone: +886 (0)5 2720411#24102